THE TYPHOON AT MACAO.
LOSS OF LIFE AMONGST THE CHINESE.

Hongkong, July 31.

To all appearances the centre of the typhoon passed somewhat to the west of the Colony of Macao. The damage there is greater than in Hongkong. Scarcely a house has escaped without being damaged to some extent, and in some instances roofs have been torn off, windows and shutters blown away bodily and walls forced in by the terrific squalls which swept the Colony. After blowing for some hours with typhoon force from the North-east, the wind suddenly changed to the South-east, much in the same way as the Hongkong typhoon in October, 1894. Only for a few minutes did the wind come directly from the East. The Boa Vista Hotel, the most pretentious building in the town, suffered severely. Part of the roof was carried away, and considerable inconvenience was caused to the visitors; but matters were speedily put to rights, and the accommodation for visitors is as good as ever.

The loss amongst the native craft, it is feared, must be very great, although the typhoon gun, warning the Chinese to seek shelter, was fired at ten o'clock on Wednesday morning. The native craft huddled together in the Inner Harbour, but then they were exposed to the full fury of the tempest and crashing against each other many were smashed to atoms where they lay, whilst others broke adrift and were thrown up on the beach. What may have been the fate of the crews can only be conjectured. The beach was strewn with wreckage, here and there a body was to be found, and at one point, opposite the house of Mr. Litte, of the Chinese Maritime Customs, there was a cluster of five bodies. Only in the course of the next few days will anything like a correct approximation of the loss of life be obtained. In other Colonies there is much less talk and more action. This, of course, is the climax, and it requires a good, all-round typhoon to disperse the air after reading it. The competition has to be carried out on one ground only, as was the case last year, the whole island will probably be allowed to fall through. I will report progress in a few days. So much genuine interest was taken in the last competition that I hope the proposed Association will not be allowed to disappear on this score. For the sake of our soldiers and sailors, if for nothing else, the competition ought to be renewed next winter, and I trust the Hongkong Football Club, which has done so much already in the interest of sport, will take up the matter actively and see it carried to a successful issue.

For Hongkong is a miserable place, with a miserable government and miserable people.

what is more, Mr. J. H. Stewart Lockhart knows it is true, although he is and has been paid to look the other way. In describing the so-called address given to the Chairmanship of the Chamber of Commerce? It would be a good thing for Hongkong if some of the fossils who are thus, that 'one more unofficial idiot' is permitted to come to the table and be ignored. Now his particular favourite Mr. Whitehead is an unofficial, and is often 'ignored' than any other member! Besides, the new member is by no means an idiot; he is one of the most intelligent and broad-minded Chinese British subjects I have ever met anywhere. Of the two, 'lamb-like' now. Executive members no more need to say, although I doubt if much of the 'lamb-like' quality can be credited to Mr. J. B. L.

But our master precipitates himself into a passion against Hongkong. Like most people who fit in that direction, he says cutting things, containing many grains of golden truth. Hongkong, he says, deserved all this kicking and cuffing from Downing Street. We are now looking like a whole menagerie of bears with sore heads because we did not 'fit' the proper time apply certain remedies which might and ought to have been applied. We are, of course, exercising that truly British privilege, the right to be miserable. That is, I fancy, a rather funny way of putting the matter—our truly British right is proposed to disappear on this score. For the sake of our soldiers and sailors, if for nothing else, the competition ought to be renewed next winter, and I trust the Hongkong Football Club, which has done so much already in the interest of sport, will take up the matter actively and see it carried to a successful issue.

I suppose you have been filled up with typhoon experience, so I will trouble you with only two facts, both from Kowloon.

At Isdale, a large chimney was blown over some coals quarters and stood up on end

in a stone stairway of the adjoining house.

In the Hotel, a window pane was blown in body and fell in the centre of the room without breaking.

I suppose this must, in some sense, be true—

only the whole truth must and should be known.

THE CHINESE MAIL

報日字華
(Wah Tei Yat Po).

THIS paper is now issued every day. The subscription is fixed at Five Dollars per annum, delivered in Hongkong, or Eleven Dollars Forty Cents including postage to Coast ports.

It is the first Chinese newspaper issued under purely native direction.

The chief support of the paper is of course derived from the native community, amongst whom it is to be found the manufacturers and securities necessary to place it on a business and legal footing.

The projectors, basing their estimates upon the most reliable information from the various Ports in China and Japan, from Australia, California, Singapore, Penang, Saigon, and other places frequented by Chinese, consider themselves justified in guaranteeing a large and steady circulation.

The advantages offered to advertisers are that the circulation is great, and the foreign community generally will find it their interest to avail themselves of the services of this paper.
